

[illegible]

And our eyes were bathed in tears
She was standing by a window calling her mother's name again and again in entreaty
As she fell back in the flames
I hope her soul has come to rest In a place called better still than even in heaven above There there is no burning The great one even wept and and as he passed by eye He was leaping upon a summit upon a high and high turning no great escape by sliding down a rock
But when he got about halfway ^{down}
The burning flames they broke Crash crash came to the ground and I heard and heard and heard the stones right as came tumbling I remember all of that burning

Now to conclude another copy
I hope you will all agree I hope that I have pleased you all
With one word carissima Best I have in your opinion For my opinion I like I hope you all have been happy
I hope you have been happy
I hope you have been happy
